Academic Information

Grading	Students will receive a letter grade ranging from A to F for each UCLA Anderson course. The letter grade is based on a point/percentage system a student receives for various components in a course. In general, UCLA Anderson students are graded on a curve. The Home Institution will ultimately determine the academic credit and the final grade to be granted to its students for courses completed at the Host Institution.
Courses	Various. Students will be provided a list of courses before the start of the Fall 2017 quarter. Students must enroll in at least 10 and no more than 12 graduate management units for the international exchange. Exchange students will rank their preference of courses. UCLA Anderson will do its best to accommodate each student's course preference, however, cannot guarantee enrollment into his or her top course choices.
